Our English teacher at Paddington Station in London

Teaching isn't only my job – it's my passion.

I don't spend much time watching films. I prefer reading, especially psychological books.

I love travelling, too.

Scotland with its fantastic castles and spectacular highlands is the country I want to visit.

In Poland, we do not celebrate Halloween, but we celebrate All Saints' Day on the first of November. We go to a cemetery and light candles on graves of our deceased relatives and friends. Although Halloween is usually not celebrated, there are many Halloween decorations, toys and sweets in stores. Some children collect candies walking from home to home like in the UK or US and saying „TRICK or TREAT“.

A photograph of several lit candles in glass holders on a grave at night. The candles are arranged on a stone grave, and the scene is illuminated by the warm glow of the flames. The background is dark, suggesting a night setting. The candles are of various sizes and colors, including clear and red glass.
